Privacy Statement

We respect your privacy.

Nonetheless, when you visit our website (as with most websites) you should be aware that certain data is automatically recorded via our website hosting provider. The data is recorded in a log of accesses (the footprints).

It would be feasible in some instances to analyse the gathered data and follow the trail to a particular user. That is, we may be able to guess who you are. This, however, is not its intended use and we would only use the data for statistical purposes in order to improve our website and to monitor or prevent security breaches. The data will not be passed on to any third parties unless compelled to do so by a legal warrant.

If you communicate with us via email your email address will only be added to a mailing list with your express agreement. The email address will not be passed onto a third party without your express consent. Your decision in that regard can be changed at any time by contacting us via email.

Please note that emails received through our website will be archived and backed up on our server for our records only.

Complaints Handling

Eden Hall respects your privacy. However, if there are any complaints regarding privacy matters we suggest that the complaint is made in writing and posted to Eden Hall Wines, Craneford Road, Springton, 5235.

Upon receiving a complaint Eden Hall will appoint an officer to hear the complaint and communicate a resolution to both parties expeditiously.

If you notice that our site contains any potential breach of common privacy principals or if you have any questions please contact us at: admin@edenhall.com.au.
